

Proudly Presented by The Center for Community and Professional Services (CCPS),
The Pennsylvania School for the Deaf (PSD) and
The Deaf-Hearing Communication Centre, Inc. (DHCC)
at The Pennsylvania School for the Deaf

An Evening with Trix Bruce

Tales of a Mad, Mad, Mad ASL World

Trix is an amazing Deaf performer, who uses American Sign Language (ASL) for creative storytelling. She includes various hand shapes, ASL classifiers, 3-D representation, international signs and more. Let Trix entertain you through ASL poetry, storytelling, and folk tales.

When: Friday, October 20, 2006

Where: Pennsylvania School for the Deaf

100 W. Schoolhouse Lane

At the PSD Gym

Time: 7:00 p.m. (doors open at 6:30)

Cost: $10.00 Adults - $7.00 Children (12 & under)

Directions: Visit our website at www.psd.org

Voice Interpreters Provided

For more information about Trix Bruce, visit her website at www.TrixBruce.com

For more information call PSD/CCPS at 215-754-4770 or email info@psd.org or email dawnannd@dhcc.org

